

2014 Central Washington Transportation Symposium

Transportation - Today and into the Future

October 8, 2014 11:30 AM to 2:00 PM
Howard Johnson Plaza Yakima, WA

How are we to fund critically needed improvements to our transportation infrastructure?

That is the question being discussed by Congress in Washington DC and our State Legislature in Olympia. This year's "Central Washington Transportation Symposium" provides a unique opportunity to hear from those who are directly involved in the process of determining how adequate funding will be generated now and in the future, how those funds are to be allocated statewide, and what improvements need to be made in our transportation systems. Our distinguished speakers include:

Keynote Speaker

Bill Bryant
Vice President
Seattle Port Commission

Clint Didier
Republican Candidate
4th District U.S. Representative

Dan Newhouse
Republican Candidate
4th District U.S. Representative

Representative Judy Clibborn
41st Legislative District
House Transportation Committee
Chair

Senator Curtis King
14th Legislative District
Senate Transportation Committee
Co-Chair

Question and Answer Panel Participants

Joining Representative Clibborn and Senator King on the panel will be Don Whitehouse (WSDOT South Central Region Administrator), Steve Gorcester (Transportation Improvement Board Director), Vern Redifer (Yakima County Public Works Director), Rob Peterson (Yakima Airport Manager), and Brig Temple (Washington Central Railroad).

The cost for the event, which includes lunch, is $20 per person when registered through the Greater Yakima Chamber of Commerce website www.yakima.org, before October 3, 2014. The price at the door, subject to available seating, will be $30 per person.
